

LAMAR JACKSON: HALL OF FAMER

The Lancaster County Tennis Hall of Fame has a new inductee: Hempfield Rec Center's own Lamar Jackson. He joins fellow pro Oliver Merrill as recipients of the prestigious honor.

Jackson, a native of Philadelphia who moved to Lancaster following the end of his professional career, was enshrined on May 13 at Bent Creek County Club.

A tennis pro at Hempfield Rec Center since 2000, Jackson is a coach's coach. When asked what the most rewarding part of his job is, he stated, "watching a player realize the culmination of their hard work and dedication."

It is that pride in his work as an instructor that he learned during his days in Philadelphia under Billy Johnson.

He still gets enormous joy out of watching a student with the same rabid enthusiasm he has for the sport of tennis excel.

The new Hall of Famer is a family man first and foremost. He wishes to thank his understand wife of 11 years, Diane, and his two little girls, Brianna and Mia, both of whom he hopes, one day, develop the same love for tennis he did at their age.

CONGRATS, BARB

Fellow Hempfield Rec Center tennis pro Barb Fetter was the recipient of the Richard T. Green Community & Service Award.

Congratulations on your much-deserved honor, Barb.

Painting With A Twist Camp

This summer, Hempfield Rec Center introduces a new take on the summer camp trend.

Painting With A Twist will offer its youth participants the opportunity to enjoy a hands-on acrylic painting experience in which they create a 16"x20" painting on each of the three days the session runs for.

There will be singing, dancing and, perhaps, the opportunity for their own game show.

Achieve Your PEAK This Summer

Hempfield Rec's PEAK Performance athletic development is returning this summer. Get your young athlete, ages 10-18, ready for the upcoming sports season with focus training aimed at physically and mentally preparing athletes to maximize their athletic potential.

Also offered is a Summer Strength and Conditioning program that is designed for the more serious, focused and determined athlete.

For more information or to get your athlete started in the program, contact Patrick Hagen at phagen@hempfieldrec.com or call 717-898-3102.
